John - Apologies. Didn't mean to copy you on this. That said, this is something we should discuss as well. It's not clear to me how direct delivery works financially for district and producers.

For discussion Tuesday. Cathy, John and I discussed the various distribution options Friday while in the car heading back from mwd. Legal issues surrounding OCWD's direct delivery of desal aside, staff really has no idea how much it would or could charge producers for our water and how to recover subsidized costs without facing fierce opposition from producers that would receive no benefit.

Attached is the memo from Joel Kuperberg that was mentioned at the Wednesday ocean desalination ad-hoc committee meeting. The memo discusses the District's legal powers as they relate to purchasing and selling Poseidon water.
